COUNTY FAIR OPENS FRIDAY

Brisk Primary Election Campaign Nears Close

GALA PROGRAM FOR 3 DAYS OUTLINED

$7.986 In Premiums To Be Awarded; Wheelbarrow Race Sunday Afternoon Feature

The fourth El Dorado County Fair — newer, bigger, better than ever before — opens Friday morning at ten o'clock at the fair grounds for a three-day showing closing on Sunday night.

With more numerous and varied exhibits and attractions on a scale dimming the successes of other years, the fair sweeps to a climax Sunday with a special program featuring the second annual Wheelbarrow Derby, the Pony Express Race, rock drilling and log chopping contests and the drum and bugle corps exhibition.

In addition to the special prizes to be claimed by winners in these events and in the American Legion Amateur Hour and the old-time costume dance Friday night, the fair will award a total of $7,986 in premiums to exhibitors.

The three-day special event program follows:

Friday — Fair opens at ten o'clock; American Legion Amateur Show at 8 p. m., followed by old-time dance;

Saturday — Fair opens at ten o'clock; Horse show starts at noon; free fireworks, courtesy Shell Oil Company, at 9 p. m.; dancing;

Sunday, 1 p. m., Wheelbarrow Race, Pony Express Race, tug of war, double jack drilling contest, log chopping contest, drum corps exhibition; 10 p. m. fireworks display.

The fairgrounds hummed with activity Thursday as the various exhibitors continued in the installation of their displays.

Manager Thomas T. Chard pointed out that the time for filing entry blanks for displays in the fair expires at six o'clock Thursday evening, although entries which are perishable need not be placed in the exhibit tents until Friday morning.

'Barrow Derby Entries Gain

Wells Fargo & Company Send Entry From N. Y.; Studebaker Supports

Indicative of the broadening interest in the Wheelbarrow Derby, developed as a feature of the County Fair, is the receipt by the committee in charge on Wednesday of an entry in the race sponsored by Wells Fargo & Company, of New York City. The entry was sent in behalf of the company by J. O. Ellis, vice-president.

In addition to this entry from New York City, the committee also has received a check from the Studebaker company at South Bend, Indiana, for use in meeting the expenses of presenting the race.

The Wheelbarrow Derby commemorates the residence in Placerville of J. M. Studebaker, one of the founders of the Indiana automobile factory, who during his residence here was employed in a blacksmith shop and made wheelbarrows for the miners so satisfactorily that he earned the nickname, "Wheelbarrow John."

The fair management announced Thursday morning that entries in the wheelbarrow race may be filed at the County Fair office. A large number of entries have been received and the management pointed out that since the race is run with an "added" purse, each entry swells the purse and increases the premium money to be awarded in this event.

Some of the firms and individuals who have filed entries in the race are reported as anxious to contact men who will compete under their colors and those who are interested in so competing should also contact the County Fair office.

ABOVE THE NEW ENTRANCE TO THE COUNTY FAIR grounds, the lettering shown above has been permanently installed to do a year around job of advertising the County Fair, held this year Friday to Sunday of the present week. Pictures have been installed to permit of lighting the sign at night during the three days of the fair. The lettering inset on either side of the word "El Dorado" is our own idea of this year's fourth annual County Fair.—Democrat photos.

County's Tax Rate May Be Set Aug. 29

Present Prospects Are $1.85 Or $1.90 Says County Clerk And Auditor

The Board of Supervisors meets again on August 29th for further consideration of the county tax rate which the board must set on or before the first day in September.

County Clerk Arthur J. Koletzke said Wednesday that the prospects are that the rate will be $1.85 or $1.90.

The higher figure, it was indicated, will be likely in the event that the county high school's plans for supervision of special classes in the CCC camps are approved. This matter was the subject of some discussion Tuesday at a meeting of the Grand Jury budget committee with the Board of Supervisors.

It appeared from the discussion that at the time the high school board held its hearing upon its proposed preliminary budget, there was no opposition to the budget. However, representatives of CCC camps met with the board in behalf of the special training program and the board added to the budget $6,000 to cover this program.

Under the arrangement by which the special training program is sponsored by the state school system, the high school district would pay for the institution of the program in its first year and following that, first year the state would pay for the classes based on the average daily attendance for the year before.

High school trustees told the meeting the proposition as presented to them would show a profit of about $2,000 per year and noted also that they were at liberty to discontinue the program at any time it ceased to be "good business." It (Continued on Page 4)

BOURBON HEAD DENIES STORY

Majority Of Committee Have Not Endorsed Anyone, Declares Chairman Patton

In a statement to the Voters of El Dorado County issued Thursday afternoon, T. G. Patton, chairman of the County Democratic Central Committee, said:

"The party whose name was attached to the articles published in The Placerville Republican and The Mountain Democrat under dates of August 20, August 21, and August 22, 1940, respectively, in which it was stated that certain candidates had been endorsed by the Democratic County Central Committee, has no legal authority to publish such a statement, as the majority members of the Democratic County Committee have not endorsed any candidate to be voted for at the Primary Election to be held on August 27, 1940, and no legal meeting of this committee has been called or held for the purpose of recommending any candidate for any office."

(Signed) T. G. PATTON, Chairman, Democratic County Central Committee.

SIX ARE SUSPECTED OF THEFT SERIES AT LAKE TAHOE

Sheriff George M. Smith and Deputy Euell Gray were at San Francisco Thursday morning to return to this county a quantity of goods seized by San Francisco police in their arrest on Friday of last week of six young men now held in the El Dorado County jail.

The six were arrested in the bay city when the police there became suspicious of their attempts to dispose to pawn shops in the city several cameras and other articles of outing equipment.

Sheriff Smith revealed when advised of the circumstances by the San Francisco police, that there had been complaint of a wave of thefts in Lake Valley, principally from cars, and reported that the value of such articles stolen might approximate as much as $1,000 or $1,500.

The thieves, the sheriff said, preyed upon parked cars, taking motion picture cameras, still cameras, musical instruments or such items of outing equipment as they could lay their hands on.

The six who are in jail gave their names as George Polasky, 19; William F. Birney, 22; Frank Molinari, 21; Ray D. Pearman, 19; Ben Olen-slager, 19 and Carl Hendershot, 23.

County Reunion At Oakland Sunday

14th Annual Meeting Of Past And Present Residents Scheduled

Preparations have been completed by officers of the El Dorado County Reunion Association, under the guidance of Dr. R. G. Hosking, president, for the 14th annual meeting of the organization at Mosswood Park, Oakland, on Sunday.

Although the family of past and present residents of the county maintains an organization which makes the annual reunion possible, there is no restriction upon attendance and all present and former county residents are welcome to attend.

Serving with Dr. Hosking during the past year were N. T. Sturtevant, as vice-president, and William H. James, secretary-treasurer.

A recent letter from Mr. James expressed regret that the date of the reunion should fall on the closing day of the County Fair.

FELONIOUS ASSAULT CHARGE FILED AFTER ALTERCATION AT SATURDAY DANCE

William Harris, 41, was to have a preliminary hearing Thursday afternoon before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, said to be based on an altercation Saturday night near one of the dance halls in the Placerville vicinity.

The sheriff's office reports that Harris was engaged in a fight with Jack R. Rickel, and that he used clenched in his fist and unopened a large "fish knife" which was seized as evidence to substantiate the charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry John Muehl-felt, of Smith Flat, are the parents of a daughter, Shannon Louise, born on August 13th at Placerville Sanatorium.

"VOICE OF TREASURE ISLE" WITH NOTED BAND AT MOTOR CITY SATURDAY

Bernadine Playford, "the Voice of Treasure Island" who is heard four times daily in west coast radio programs, will be the featured vocalist Saturday night at Motor City resort, appearing with Pablo Ricardo and his orchestra.

Miss Playford appears on the radio in "Heart Strings" in the "Treasure Island Varieties" and in "Rhythm" and is also heard in a short wave broadcast.

Ricardo's orchestra is also well known to listeners on the radio, playing for the Women's Magazine of the Air program and for the Farm and Home Hour, as well as in a separate billing as Ricardo and his Caballeros.

The regular features of Motor City entertainment will prevail.

NAZI BERTHAS SHELL SHIPS

Concussion Of Batteries Near Calais Shakes British Channel Coast

By UNITED PRESS
German guns mounted from Calais to Boulogne bombarded a British convoy in the Dover straits today for the first time as Germany intensified her attacks on shipping in British waters.

The spectacular channel bombardment was witnessed by thousands on the Dover cliffs. They reported that none of the 18 ships in the British convoy appeared to have been hit.

The long-range bombardment was topped off by an attack a few miles further up the coast by 12 German dive-bombers, two of which were immediately brought down by the British defenders.

A second convoy off the north-east British coast also was attacked by German planes which were driven off by anti-aircraft fire and the arrival of Spitfire fighters.

The German channel guns shelled the convoy as it was proceeding up the coast from Dover towards Deal. They roared away with salvos of four shells a minute, with the interval diminishing to 30 seconds as the bombardment increased in intensity.

British warships raced around the convoy, laying a thick smoke screen, and British fighter planes attacked a German plane which was acting as a spotter for the coast batteries.

The thunder of the big guns shook the Dover coast and shells fell close to land as the convoy raced out of range of the cannon.

The German guns previously had fired sporadic shells at the English coast but had not been used before to attack shipping, despite the narrowness of the channel, which is only 22 miles wide from Dover to Calais.

At the height of the bombardment great spouts of water plumed upward as high as 100 feet, indicating the heavy calibre of the guns being used by the Germans.

Tuman Ahlstrom To Enter Naval Aviation Training

Tuman Ahlstrom, who has been on furlough from the U. S. Naval Training Station at San Diego, for the past 10 days, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Ahlstrom of Pollock Pines, returned Wednesday to resume his duties. He is very enthusiastic about the opportunities offered and especially in the field of aviation branch of the service in which he will start school September 1st.

Rev. Rex Barron goes to Camp Meeker, on the Russian River, Monday to serve as one of the leaders in a conference series arranged by the Sacramento diocese of the Episcopal Church.

3 SUPERVISORS TO BE NAMED; 2 CONTESTS

County Votes Tuesday In 44 Precincts On Contests For Congress, Legislature

As a brisk primary election campaign nears its close, El Dorado County is preparing to vote Tuesday in common with the rest of the state, expressing its preference for the nomination of Congressional and Legislative candidates and, in three districts of the county, for candidates for Supervisorships.

Central committeemen are to be named by the Democratic, Republican and Progressive party electors, although nominations were filed only in the first two named parties.

The election will be conducted in 44 polling places in the county, and each qualified elector has received with his sample ballot a card informing him of the location of the polling place in his district.

The Supervisorial election will concern the First, Second and Third districts, although Supervisor P. J. Hall, in the First district, is unopposed for re-election. In the Second District, Rolland Gust, incumbent by virtue of appointment to the post to fill a vacancy early this year, is opposed by C. R. Tinker. In the Third District, Supervisor Cyril Heusner is opposed by W. S. Biggs, who represented the Third district on the Board a number of years ago.

The Legislative election in the county concerns the naming of a State Senator and a member of the Assembly. H. E. Dillingier, Jessie E. Madden and Thomas Maul are candidates for the Republican and the Democratic nominations for State Senator. On the Republican ticket, Byron Mace, of Ione, is in the race, and on the Democratic ticket, George Taylor is a candidate. There is no incumbent in the office, since the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Senator A. L. Pierovich was not filled by appointment, nor by special election.

Today's Sport Parade

By Henry McLemore
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—My wits are of rummage sale calibre I know, but even so they are sharp enough to detect that the handicap system in horse racing doesn't have a hand-in-glove relationship with the turf men's talk about the improvement of the breed.

What's the use of improving the breed and developing a fine, outstanding horse if, the moment he proves himself as such, you pack his saddle with so much lead he is dragged down to the level of inferior thoroughbreds?

For an example, take W. L. Brann's Maryland bred star, Chaledon. He is to thoroughbreds running today what Brenda Frazier is to glamor girls; Bing Crosby is to Crooners, and cherrystone is to clams. In short, he is the No. 1 critter, and if the racing secretaries of the various tracks would leave him alone he wouldn't lose any more races than Jesse Owens would at an Elks picnic.

But every time Chaledon goes to the post these days he is assigned so much weight it makes you wonder why the secretaries don't go the whole way and put Oliver Hardy or Paul Whiteman on him as a jockey, forge him a saddle from Bethlehem steel, and send the Marx Brothers along as observers. Maybe they will do something like this yet before the year is out. They'll have to if they are absolutely determined to slow him down to where he does not have any more speed than his rivals.

The latest burden assigned to Chaledon is 135 pounds for the Merchants and Citizens Handicap to be run at Saratoga on Saturday. This is a full eight pounds more than any of his rivals will be asked to lug on the mile and three-sixteenths journey. If Saratoga's handicapper, John B. Campbell, wanted to be real sure that Chaledon would be beaten why didn't he make it a real merchants and citizens handicap and insist that he carry a Saratoga merchant or citizen as excess baggage? It would be novel, to say the least, to see a hardware merchant or a real estate dealer hanging on for dear life as Chaledon tore down the stretch.

Just why Chaledon should be given 135 pounds in this stake and George E. Widener's Eight Thirty let off with 127 is a bit of a mystery. The only time the two horses ever met was in the Massachusetts Handicap and Eight Thirty ran first to Chaledon's third. Since then, of course, Chaledon has won the Hollywood Gold Cup in track record time an dEight Thirty taken a bad licking in the Saratoga Handicap.

Chaledon isn't the first stand-out horse to take a weight beating. It was lead in the saddle that forced Discovery into retirement. When Discovery quit they were piling so much metal on him that a jockey had to be a member in good standing of the United Mine Workers' Union to be eligible to ride him. Man O'War was retired after his three-year-old campaign but he was carrying 138 pounds at the finish. Another year or two of racing and he probably would have staggered down the stretch with a safe, a couple of four-poster beds, and a coop of chickens on his back.

Some of the great horses escaped too severe poundage. Examinator's top impost was 137. But he carried that only once. Seabiscuit's top was 133, and Sun Beau hoisted as much as 132 on but one occasion. Gallant Fox was never burdened with more than 128 and Colin's top was 127.

Speaking for myself, my top weight was 187 and did I develop the staggers!

C. W. Getchell, who from 1881 until 1925 published the Calaveras Prospect, at San Andreas, was a caller Saturday at our office. Mr. Getchell said he first saw Placerville in 1862, and granted that there have been some changes since that time.

applied to plumbing. But fortunately, Buck Murphy didn't care so much about his books as he did about having Marianne tell his wife he was out of town when he was recovering from a drunken spree.

Sometimes Mrs. Murphy would come barging into the shop. She was a big, red-faced, but kindly woman. One of the few who had not made some sneering remark about Eve. Marianne did not want to lie to her.

"Young lady, are you sure he isn't at the club?" she asked Marianne one day.

"Why, he said he was going out of town," Marianne gulped and beekoned frantically for Hickey.

Hickey was Murphy's right-hand man. Now, in answer to Marianne's summons, he sauntered forward.

"Buck will be back tomorrow," think he went over Moravia. "He lied cheerfully. 'Anything I can do?'"

"You truth-juggling Irishman," Mrs. Murphy retorted. "There's plenty you can do, but you won't do it. For instance, go over to the club and beat some sense into Buck."

Hickey grinned, the infectious grin that always managed to send Mrs. Murphy away in a good humor.

"Aw, now, Mrs. Murphy, you wouldn't have me to do that."

MARIANNE liked Hickey. He kept things moving smoothly at the shop—look complaints and compliments with equal cheerfulness. He was quick to note that Marianne didn't know a lot about bookkeeping and equally quick to help her.

"See here, kid," he scolded one day when he came in and found her in one of the dark moods that were becoming a habit. "When you going to wake up to the fact that bitterness and tears won't get you any place?"

"Oh, you don't understand!" "I understand that," if Buck Murphy wasn't drunk all the time, he'd fire you—and I wouldn't blame him."

"But you see, I . . . " "Am terribly abused. I can finish your sentence. Snap out of it, kid!"

"But—but I hate bookkeeping," Marianne lamented. "And I love ditch digging and cleaning out drain pipes, when I always dreamed of sailing the seven seas and exploring the odd corners of the earth. But one of my eight kids will do that and I—I'll just be a good plumber."

"I understand that," if Buck Murphy wasn't drunk all the time, he'd fire you—and I wouldn't blame him."

Marianne Minear lives on the wrong side of the little town of Centerville. She begins to realize this poignantly when, on the day of her graduation from high school, Monte Thurston, who has gone with her all through high school, deserts her for well-to-do, socially secure Sabra Anderson. Then, Marianne's sister Eve, desperate to get away from Centerville because, she says, a girl without money hasn't a chance there, runs away with her employer, a married man. Embittered by all this, Marianne becomes convinced that money is everything, and grimly vows that, some day, she will have it. Monte continues to see her but, because of the scandal about Eve, meets her secretly, and she receives snubs on all sides. Meanwhile, she has taken a job as bookkeeper in a plumbing shop.

some day. Oh, I hate—hate everybody!" She cried often. Futile, bitter tears that couldn't wash away the daily snubs. Now that her old crowd had dropped her so definitely, she seldom went any place. Fortunately, her evenings were busy. She and her mother were getting rid of things in the little house and hunting a new place to live. They finally located light-housekeeping rooms after a number of turn-downs—veiled excuses that meant only one thing—they were not wanted.

After that, came sorting and separating what they must take or do without. Marianne would never forget that experience. Coming across little things of Eve's—her mother rushing from the room to hide her tears. A doll Eve had treasured . . . a cotton Easter

"When you going to wake up to the fact that bitterness and tears won't get you any place?"

CHAPTER IV
IN THE days that followed, Marianne lost weight. Her face was pale and her eyes brooding. She hated her job at the plumbing shop, and could only think resentfully of the unfairness of things.

"I'm as good as anyone here," she thought angrily. "They're no right to treat me like this. I'll—I'll show them chick with only one leg and a ribbon about its neck with a card bearing the inscription, 'To Eve from Marianne,' in a childish scrawl.

Mrs. Minear's hair seemed to get grayer each day, her shoulders more stooped, her hand more unsteady. "If we could only write to Eve," she would say. "If she would only send her address . . . "

MARIANNE'S troubles did not end at home. She hated bookkeeping, particularly when Folks—The most important issue confronting us today is unemployment. There is nothing mysterious or complex about economics. Industry has reached its full growth and there is now little opportunity to reinvest capital earnings. Billions lie idle in the banks. Idle money means idle labor, decreased purchasing power, distress for the farmer and small business man. Money is the life blood of industry and must flow freely. I hold that the welfare of all America is vastly more important than the predatory rights of a few thousand Millionaires and Billionaires and I therefore insist that if we would avert a complete crash of our economic system and our democratic institutions we must tax the hoarded billions back into circulation and tax huge incomes to the point that great fortunes can no longer be amassed.

Today one-half of all American families live on $12.00 per week. Four million families live on $6.00 per week. Millions are hungry while great quantities of food stuffs are deliberately destroyed. Everywhere one finds the people dazed and despairing—wondering why the world's richest country can not feed its own people. Upon the horizon of time, thinking people can see taking shape a new dispensation for plagued humanity. A student of basic economics for twenty-five years, I have entered this contest because I see the tragic need of a new kind of leadership, a leadership that believes in action, not platitudes and sympathetic utterances. I challenge the right of the overlords of industry and finance to chain America to dying institutions. The Americanism to which I subscribe imposes an obligation to fight for the right of all Americans to enjoy their just share of the Creator's bounty. I know whereof I speak when I say that our economic system is in an advanced stage of decay and that our national existence can be preserved only by drastically taxing money back into circulation.

I am forty-eight years old, was raised in Amador County, have been ranch hand, oil worker, contractor, fraud investigator, and for many years have operated a hotel in Placerville. Member V. F. W. with service in France. I know the problems of this district and, if elected, I will always be available to my constituents. In a broader sense my religion is to promote the material well being of the common people and in victory or defeat I shall stand on that principle.

Geo. S. Taylor

P. S.—I have just learned that Governor Olson has endorsed Dillinger for Senator. Two years ago I managed Olson's campaign in my county. I was then, and am now, for his ideas, except that I would go much further. Some months ago I introduced Olson's Lieutenant Governor at a mass meeting in Placerville and because Olson dislikes Patterson he became incensed at me for having acted as chairman. I am shocked and surprised at the Governor's behavior. While I labored to help elect him, El Dorado County's Democratic Central Committee not only did nothing to help Olson but most of its members actually worked against him. Olson is now taking advice from these very men, who like him no better today than they did two years ago. It is beyond me how the Governor could, at the eleventh hour, turn down one of his staunchest supporters and take as his bed fellows those who have knifed him. In point of intellect, education, sobriety and the will to fight for what I think is right I am well qualified for office. I am neither dreamer nor dangerous radical. Because I believe that God intended for us a better destiny than starvation in the midst of plenty I will so strive to justify that faith. With no ill feeling toward my opponents I place my political fortunes in the hands of you voters.

THANK YOU.

on the Republican and the Democratic tickets and is opposed by T. S. Marlor on the Democratic ticket. In the matter of the election of central committeemen, there are nine candidates for five positions on the Democratic central committee in the first district, two candidates for two committee posts in the second district; one candidate with two to be named in the third district and also in the fifth district, and no candidates with two to be named in the fourth district. For the Republican central committee, there are five candidates with four to be named in the first district, and one candidate with one to be named in the second and third districts. The fourth and fifth districts also will have one member on the committee but there are no nominees in either district.

So much for the local contests. In the broader field of the Second Congressional District, Congressman Harry L. Englebright, a candidate on the Democratic, Republican, Townsend and Progressive tickets, is unopposed for re-election.

In the still broader campaign for the United States Senatorship, the distinguished Senator Hiram W. Johnson has five opponents on the Democratic ticket, three on the Republican ticket, and one on the Progressive ticket while the Prohibition and Communist parties each have one nominee.

ARMY HAS SUPPLIES FOR CONSCRIPTION ARMY, SAYS GEN. MARSHALL

WASHINGTON, (UP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, said today that the army has enough basic equipment to undertake the conscription without delay if it is enacted by congress.

"We have plenty of basic and essential material to train these men," Marshall said.

He said that there were ample stocks of rifles for 3,000,000 men, plenty of gas masks, artillery, mortars, and other equipment, for the program. He said that very few of the 400,000 men proposed to be drafted first would be "mixed up right away" with anti-tank, anti-aircraft and other new model guns which are not yet available on a large scale.

$150,000 LOSS COUNTED IN BAY DISTRICT OIL FIRE

MARTINEZ, (UP)—Firemen from three towns and two oil companies today extinguished a fire which last night destroyed a lubricating oil acid treatment plant and several storage tanks at the Associated Oil Company's plant at Avon, four miles east of Martinez.

A preliminary estimate placed the loss at $150,000. Firemen from Martinez, Crockett and Concord joined the fire departments of the Associated Oil and Shell Oil Companies in fighting the blaze, with 400 firemen on the lines.

Arthur Mart was in town from Garden Valley Thursday morning.

LABOR DAY IS AN IDEAL TIME FOR A BARBECUE

Just as the west itself has been "dudified," so has the old-fashioned barbecue. No one ever "gives" a barbecue, no one ever "holds" a barbecue, but everybody "throws" a barbecue these days.

Why don't you wind up a week-end of holiday entertainment on Labor Day by "throwing" a barbecue for your fun-loving friends?

The important thing about successful barbecuing, Inez S. Willson, home economist, points out, is the secret of success in any type of meat cooking: cook the meat slowly at a low, even temperature. Barbecuing is broiling done over the red hot coals rather than a flame.

It is important in barbecuing to know about the amount of heat required. Charcoal, charcoal briquettes or wood can be used in barbecuing. If you are barbecuing beef or lamb, allow the coals to flame for about an hour, then let the fire die and begin broiling. All cuts of beef may be served rare, medium or well done, while lamb should always be pretty well done.

The flavor of pork and veal is developed by a longer period of cooking. They are best when thoroughly cooked to their center; so when barbecuing pork or veal the coals should flame for about two hours before you begin broiling.

Barbecue accommodations will usually provide a grill of some kind for the smaller cuts of meat. Steaks, at least an inch thick and the thicker the better; lamb chops, ham slices, bacon, meat patties—all these reach perfection slowly browning on the grill.

"Barbecued meats don't necessarily have to have special barbecue seasoning, but blends of herbs and spices which include garlic, onion, leek, sweet chili, salt and so forth always give excellent results when discreetly used.

Barbecue accommodations are as versatile as their originator. You can build your own barbecue and make your equipment or you can choose the accessories from carefully anticipated displays. In other words, this is one time when you can be at pretentious as you desire or as rustic as you please.

Labor Day is the ideal occasion to "throw" a barbecue. In the congenial atmosphere of the out-of-doors, all will enjoy good friends and all so good food.

Look how much your hotel can do for you—if you use it often

"Let's hold the meeting at the hotel, and we'll get better attendance"

It's good business to hold your meetings at the hotel. Attendance is better because good food, extra service and the air of importance the hotel gives your meeting make it a meeting your members want to attend. Try the hotel for that next meeting and see what a difference it makes in attendance.

"Everybody has more fun when we entertain at the hotel"

Smart hostesses everywhere are turning to the hotel as the place to give their parties. Hotels offer the kind of sure service that relieves you of all bother about plans and preparations—allows you to begin (and end) the evening almost a guest yourself. All for a lot less than you ever dreamed, too.

"I'll meet you at the hotel at six"

More and more your hotel is becoming the "right" place to start your social evenings. Good music, excellent food, an interesting cosmopolitan atmosphere and the fact that you're almost certain to meet friends who'll join your fun, help make this so.

"Here's how your hotels help your business"

Hotels maintain large staffs of local employees whose salaries help swell the volume in your retail stores. And, good times or bad, hotels go on paying a large share of the taxes in your community. Sound business practice says you help yourself when you support your local hotels.

To thousands and thousands of travelers your hotels are the social registers of your city. They are the windows through which the rest of the world sees how you entertain, how you conduct your business, how you live. Help us, as your hotel men, to sell these travelers on the advantages of our community. Be a part of your local hotel—take advantage of the many services your hotel offers.

County's Tax Rate May Be Set Aug. 29

was noted also that at such time as the program is discontinued, the district would get its $6,000 initially invested back.

It was said that there are a number of boys in one of the camps who are illiterate, and that the training program contemplated would help to correct this and also provide other school opportunities for the CCC boys. The classes would be conducted in the camps and not at the high school building.

There was opposition to the proposal on the basis of general objection to tax increase, and also the question was raised as to the legality of an amended high school budget. Then it was also brought out that the high school board can set its own budget and that the Board of Supervisors cannot change it.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon was asked by the Board of Supervisors about the matter of the amended high school budget. Mr. Lyon replied that he would get a ruling on the matter from the Attorney General.

The situation, he said, appears in this light: The high school preliminary budget was published and notice was given of the budget hearing. It was possible some people had read the proposed preliminary budget and had in their own minds approved it and therefore did not attend the hearing. The amendment of the budget at the hearing and in the absence of published notice of the proposed increase in the budget, leaves the possibility that some people who approve the budget as published might not approve the amendment and might have opposed the amendment before the high school board if notice of intention to amend had been published.

He said there is no record of any case in court on such circumstances and he has no record of any ruling on such a situation. It is expected that a ruling from the Attorney General may be available in time for the August 29 meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

MRS. ROLON IRISH HAS LETTER FROM SISTER NEAR PARIS

Mrs. Rolon Irish has recently received a letter from her sister in her native France, covering generally and in some particulars the evacuation of Paris before the German advance, and including the report that hostilities had then ceased in that vicinity and there were expectations of returning soon to Paris and to work.

One of the sister's sons was taken prisoner by the Germans in the Flanders drive and two other nephews of Mrs. Irish, who were in the French Army, had not been heard from up to the time of writing. The letter described the flight of Mrs. Irish's sister and her family from Paris in trucks and on bicycles and told of experiencing a shelling while in flight. One of the boys in the family, the letter said rode his bicycle from Paris to Bordeaux.

Manager Chard reported the exhibit space in the fair this year is almost double the space of former years and that it is being rapidly filled. Livestock entries, he reported Thursday, are slow coming in and there was opportunity to enter sheep and goats in this department.

"About all there is to say in addition to that is that everyone is working like beavers," Mr. Chard said. "The spirit of community co-operation is again taking charge and the fair will be ready for the opening Friday morning, thanks to the co-operation of all who are participating."

MT. RALSTON CLUB OUTING RESERVATIONS CLOSE ON TUESDAY

Reservation notices for the ninth annual Labor Day Weekend fishing trip of the Mt. Ralston Fish Planting Club were put in the mail this week by Secretary T. T. Moore at Sacramento. The deadline for reservations has been set for Tuesday noon, August 27th, with the party limit set at sixty.

The sportsmen will leave Sacramento Friday afternoon, August 30, and Saturday morning, August 31, to drive to Echo Lake, where the cars will be parked in the forest service lot. The boat schedule across Echo Lake will start at 6 a. m. Saturday morning and boats will run at three hour intervals through the day. From the landing at Upper Echo Lake a new government trail leads three miles by an easy hike to the camp site.

During the time at the camp there will be fishing, hiking, horseback riding, sightseeing, fishing and casting contests, picture contests and a campfire entertainment program. The return to Sacramento will be on Monday, September 2nd.

An advance crew of about ten men and three cooks will go in a day ahead of time to prepare the camp for the main group.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Whitney, of Spokane, spent last weekend visiting the W. H. Klines on Coloma Road and included a stop at San Francisco and Treasure Island in their tour of California. Mrs. Whitney is a sister of Mrs. Kline.

Waldo Daniels is on vacation for two weeks from his work with the Pacific Gas & Electric Company.

MISS MARION GRIGGS, daughter of Mrs. Clara Griggs, of Camino, and office secretary in the headquarters of the county Chamber of Commerce, will become Mrs. Wilbur Jackson in a service to be performed Saturday morning at the Catholic church at Carson City, Nevada. Mr. Jackson is employed at Pino Grande and the couple will make their home in Placerville.

BRITISH WAR RELIEF PARTY ON SEPTEMBER 5TH AT GEORGETOWN

We learn that a committee including Mrs. Frank McCaslin, Mrs. Frank Richards and Mrs. George Saunders has completed arrangements for a party for the benefit of British War Relief, to be held on Thursday afternoon, September 5, at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richards, at Georgetown.

Following dessert, there will be whist, bridge and other games and the admission will be twenty-five cents and a bar of soap. The object of the occasion is to raise money and soap for British War Relief and it is stated also that discarded silk stockings and woolen clothing also are wanted. The stockings, it is said, can be used to make stretcher robes, and the woolen clothing for refugees.

Mrs. Richards will be assisted as hostess by Mrs. William Gerard, Mrs. McCaslin, Mrs. Walter Drysdale, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Amy Mouck and Mrs. Dr. Lester B. Rantz. This is, in every particular, a benefit party and there will be no prizes for the players.

Charles Young was doing business in the county seat Thursday from Lake Valley.

TREASURER JOHNSON SEES "PIRACY" IN STATE BUYING BRIDGES

SACRAMENTO, (P) — Opposition was renewed today by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson to state purchase of the Carquinez and Antioch bridges.

Johnson declared that to acquire the spans at the price of $6,042,000 proposed by Director of Public Works Frank W. Clark would be "an act of piracy on the taxpayers of California."

TROTZKY FUNERAL TO BE AT MEXICO GOVERNMENT EXPENSE

MEXICO CITY, (P) — Mexican workers and intellectuals, many of whom bitterly opposed him in life, filed today before the diminutive body of Leon Trotsky, one time Russian war lord, as it lay in state at a undertaking establishment.

President Lázaro Cardenas ordered that funeral expenses should be borne by the government.

Gen. Alfredo Lamont Hernandez, his personal representative, and Gen. Manuel Nunez, chief of police, kept the first vigil beside the body of the man who, after having been a revolutionist for 43 of his 60 years, died at the Green Cross emergency hospital at 7:25 last night.

Sunset Parlor of Native Sons, at Sacramento Monday night, received an official visit from Grand President Henry S. Lyon, and in the course of the evening voted a fifty year membership button to United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson. Superior Judge Malcolm C. Glenn and Justice of the Peace Percy G. West received the button on behalf of Senator Johnson and will forward it to him.

Postmaster Ray Rosenberger was in town Thursday from Coloma.

ABSENTEE VOTE DEADLINE FOR PRIMARY EXPIRES TONIGHT

SACRAMENTO, (P) — County clerks were busy today taking applications for absentee ballots before the deadline tonight for the primary election next Tuesday for U. S. Senator, Congress State Legislature and Judicial terms.

Election officials predicted a reasonably heavy vote from the all-time record registration of 3,782,702. Interest was growing in the legislative battles, following Gov. Culbert Olson's endorsement of 77 "true democrats" he wanted elected to the legislature.

Performance or Promises

It is easy to promise whatever seems likely to win the most votes, but actions speak louder than words, and records speak louder than campaign promises.

In four terms of legislative service Mr. Dillinger has voted nearly five thousand times, and was author of nearly a hundred bills. His opponents have not attempted to criticize a single one of those votes or bills. His record shows that he has never been controlled by any one, and his repeated re-election shows that his services have been satisfactory to the people.

"There Is No Substitute For Experience"
